Nothing fancy, nice enough for somewhere to sleep, has mini fridge and microwave, and basic continental breakfast. It was $55 for a king room (in March 2007), I think, with Carolina Poodle Rescue there is a special price."

CPR volunteer Martha wrote, "The Quality Inn at Gaffney is fine, the usual motel, no surprises. They do allow pets. I have stayed there twice. The rooms are clean, quiet, excellent mattresses, some with refrigerator and microwave. I had a king room one trip and a double the last time. Both were good. The price is average $67.00. AAA Rate. The staff was nice. I talked to Jack (I think that was his name)both trips- nice guy. They offer the usual continental breakfast with a waffle maker, but yucky frozen biscuits. It is very convenient to DW and I-85. Loads of restaurants nearby."
